

The Sage Gateshead

Music-Making and Learning

Daytime and evening programme for adults

Fancy a new challenge? Always wanted to sing or play an instrument? Interested in exploring new musical experiences?

The Sage Gateshead's wide-ranging adult programme aims to offer opportunities for everyone, from beginners to the experienced singer or player. We provide the best possible environment in which to take part in music-making, with tutors and leaders who will give excellent guidance in a great atmosphere.

Come and Sing

Voicebeat – an opportunity to try out your voice in new and exciting ways – all welcome.

Chamber Choir – an auditioned group for those who like a classical approach.

Acappella Stellas – a vocal group for women's voices singing everything from standards to funk.

Men Allowed – a singing group for men only!

Sounds Good to Me – this is for you if you have a learning difficulty and enjoy singing in a more supported atmosphere.

Caedmon Choir – an independent community choir singing world music.

Deep Tyne Gospel – an opportunity to sing gospel and songs of faith in a supportive and lively group.

BlueJazz Voices – perform with your jazz voice, uncover your blues mood and let the diva through!

Explore your BlueJazz Voice – work on your vocal improvisation and progress your singing/vocal technique.

Folkworks Tuesdays – fresh, lively workshops and ensembles – a range of opportunities at all levels to sing folk songs. (From January 2010)

Come and Play

Don't Panic - learn the steel pans from scratch in this steel band.

Ukulele Workshop - whether you are a beginner or more proficient why not give it a try?

Calabash - a daytime carnival band - playing music for street and processional performance. No need to have played before - plenty of instruments for all.

Meze Mundo - an evening carnival band where you can use your instrument in a new and exciting style.

BbEb - a group for brass and woodwind instruments - parts for all standards.

Instrumental Workshops - new instrumental opportunities: first workshops are for cellists and other string players.

Cobweb Orchestra - a group for both inexperienced/out of practice and more proficient players.

Jazz4Everyone - exciting, accessible workout days across the region held several times a year.

Folkworks Tuesdays - fresh, lively workshops and ensembles - a range of opportunities at all levels for folk instrumentalists. (From January 2010)

The Silver Programme
